Please write a brief description below of how you feel your expertise can be an asset to the board and how you can contribute to the mission of the Florida Gulf Coast Chapter:

I am passionate about sustainability and the great impact we can have by greening our built environment in Tampa Bay. I have seen firsthand how green design and construction can mitigate negative impacts of construction and development and provide better buildings for people to live, work, and play in. It's about the environment, but it's also about so much more than that. It's also about cost savings from operational efficiencies, but again, it's about so much more than that. It's simply about doing the right thing. "Doing the right thing" in design in construction means focusing on the triple bottom line in all decisions along the way. When we make sustainability a factor in our decision making along with traditional factors such as budget, maintenance, durability, etc., the benefits are enormous.

Having served on this Board for the last number of years, I believe I now have not only a passion to help the chapter achieve its mission, but also significant practical knowledge on how the chapter can best move forward. I understand the chapter's strengths, but its weaknesses too. It is this knowledge that can help us avoid repeating past mistakes and also continue to expand our great successes.

Employer Information

Current Employer	Title	Length of Employment
Willis A. Smith Construction	Project Manager	August 2011-Present

How does your business or professional activity relate to sustainability?

As a Project Manager in the commercial construction industry and as a LEED AP, I collaborate with owners, designers, subcontractors and manufacturers on to implement sustainable building techniques and to ensure maximum economic and environmental rewards, working with each client and their unique circumstances and budget. Whether they are seeking a LEED certification or just want to implement particular eco-friendly design elements, I am constantly facing requests as well as exciting challenges to find sustainable solutions to our client's development goals.

But that is really just the start.

I feel we as General Contractors and Construction Managers have a corporate responsibility to conduct our business in an environmentally conscious, sustainable way. From recycling our own waste internally in our office, to retraining our Subcontractors into thinking consciously about waste and air quality, this is a corporate lifestyle and not just a marketing pitch to clients. My commitment definitely extends beyond how I deliver project, as its more about how I and the company I work for do business on a daily basis.

Employer Information

Current Employer	Title	Length of Employment
CB Richard Ellis	Associate Director	June 2007 – Present

How does your business or professional activity relate to sustainability?

In early 2007, CB Richard Ellis was the first commercial real estate firm to pledge to become carbon neutral. By 2011 CB Richard Ellis had met that goal. Coupled with that same pledge was a commitment to focus our then-1.7 billion square feet of building space on sustainability. As an Associate Director and Court Appointed Receiver having overseen operations of over five million square feet of commercial real estate in the Florida markets, my daily activities focus on achieving sustainability both for corporate operations I support as well as owned building operations I support.

By far, the majority of my sustainability focus is within the office buildings, assisting my clients along the green path. I have contracted for GAP analyses and have registered high rise office buildings my teams manage for LEED-EB:O&M certification. I currently focus exclusively on distressed assets—where foreclosure has occurred, foreclosure proceedings are underway, or are imminent. In these assets, I have also instituted the EnergyStar program, implemented low cost best practices for energy saving, initiated green cleaning, completed waste audits, established recycling programs, and specified waterless urinals for construction projects.

Finally, and most importantly, I have coordinated and supported training opportunities for the real estate managers and engineers, including BEEP courses and academic lectures on green operations.

Please write a brief description below of how you feel your expertise can be an asset to the board and how you can contribute to the mission of the Florida Gulf Coast Chapter:

The Florida Gulf Coast Chapter of the USGBC's mission, in part to lead the region toward sustainability by encouraging and advancing environmental friendly knowledge and values as they pertain to the built environment, aligns well with my special interests as both an Associate Director at CB Richard Ellis and a licensed attorney in the state of Florida.

This dual activity base has served me well in refining leadership, advocacy, and organizational capabilities. For the Asset Services Division of CBRE, my team's capabilities regarding contract terms focused on green initiatives have been greatly improved through involvement in the Florida Gulf Coast Chapter's educational opportunities; I hope to further those educational offerings to the commercial real estate industry if selected to continue to serve the Branch. This dual activity base has strengthened my ability to focus on advocacy efforts on behalf of the commercial real estate industry—focusing specifically on energy, sustainability, insurance, and tax impacts. I have led the PACE committee for BOMA, and continue to closely track this legislation's capability of funding efficient upgrades to commercial office product. Finally, this dual activity base has also allowed me to participate in leadership and governance roles within a variety of organizations, all with a concentration on advocacy, education, networking, membership involvement, and charitable involvement. Notably, the year of my partial Chairmanship of the Suncoast Combined Federal Campaign, the chapter was awarded the #1 CFC in the nation with the highest increase in charitable contributions. Through these affiliations, I have been engaged to present at industry events, including: Sustainability in (ICSC); Green Jobs (USGBC); Receiverships and CMBS Markets (RMA; ICSC); 2011 Florida Legislative Session (BOMA); Proposing Tips (Services); and Durability of Concrete (AMICC).

Another aspect of the USGBC's mission is to recognize the extraordinary efforts of our community in greening our environment. In 2010, I supported the Chapter's LEEDership Award program that recognized outstanding community, business, and Chapter LEEDers, which was very well received by the awardees and attendees. I look forward to continuing these support efforts for future programs.

I thank the Nominating Committee, the Branch, and the Board for their consideration and look forward to participating in any needed capacity with the Florida Gulf Coast Chapter of the United States Green Building Council to further sustainability initiatives.
